Coatham, Mackenzie Leigh

2014

Insight into the universally conserved NTPases HflX and YchF

Department of Chemistry and Biochemistry

https://hdl.handle.net/10133/3539

Downloaded from OPUS, University of Lethbridge Research Repository
Figure A.2 Alignment of 291 bacterial YchF primary sequences. Black indicates 100% identity, dark grey 80 to 100% conservation, light grey 60 to 80% and white shading is indicative of less than 60% identity.